A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

On March 11, 2022, The Business, Entrepreneurship, and Tax Law Review hosted a live symposium that considered the future of food. The Future of Food symposium featured nine industry practitioners discussing how law and policy should play a role in navigating the future of food and food systems. This issue features the law review articles and essays written by the symposium speakers. We want to thank the following speakers and authors who made this symposium issue possible: Joanna Sax, Chad Marzen, John Ikerd, Agnes B. Gambill, Iselin Gambert, Katya S. Cronin, R. Denisse Córdova Montes, and Bitu Amani. We would also like to express our appreciation for Professors Dennis Crouch and Erika Lietzan, who served as faculty advisors for the 2022 symposium. Without them, the symposium would not have been possible.

I especially want to thank and congratulate our Associate Members and Editorial Staff for their hard work and dedication to this volume. I also want to thank our Faculty Advisor, Dennis Crouch, for his support and guidance.
