Publication of signed contributions does not signify adoption of the views expressed by the REVIEW or its Editors collectively.

"My keenest interest is excited, not by what are called great questions and great cases, but by little decisions which the common run of selectors would pass by because they did not deal with the Constitution or a telephone company, yet which have in them the germ of some wider theory, and therefore of some profound interstitial change in the very tissue of the law."—OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, COLLECTED LEGAL PAPERS (1920) 269.

NEWS OF THE LAW SCHOOL

Once a month the Tate Hall Communique is sent to all members of the armed forces who have attended the Law School of the University of Missouri and whose current addresses we have been able to obtain. The Communique is the brain child of Mrs. Owen Price, the secretary of the school, and is designed to keep the boys informed of what is happening on the campus and to act as a medium of exchange of information about the boys themselves. Enthusiastic comments on the communique have been received from all corners of the globe and in the next issue personal news so received is summarized for the benefit of all the rest of the "subscribers." If anyone knows of the army address of any ex-students who might be interested in receiving a Communique, Mrs. Price will be glad to have it.

Professor Wayne Bettner, who has been a member of the faculty for the past three years, has resigned to join the legal staff of the Office of Price Administration in New York City. His place will not be filled under the present circumstances.

Six seniors graduated at the end of the winter quarter in a brief ceremony held in conjunction with the medical school. A considerable number of students were called out to enter the armed services during the quarter and others expect to be called in the near future. The enrollment at the beginning of the spring quarter was twenty-seven.
