LORD NOTTINGHAM'S CHANCERY CASES (VOLUME II). Edited, with an introduction by David E. C. Yale, M.A., LL.B., Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge. Selden Society Publications, Volume 79. London: Bernard Quaritch, 1961. Pp. 1040. £3 13s. 6d.*

The first volume of Lord Nottingham's Chancery Cases, containing reports of 578 cases decided between 1673 and 1676, was published as Selden Society Volume 73 for 1954. It contained an introduction by Mr. Yale discussing the Earl of Nottingham's career, writings and contributions to the development of the common law Rule Against Perpetuities. Volume II contains reports of 592 cases decided between 1676 and the lord chancellor's death in 1682. The 200-page introduction discusses Lord Nottingham's development of equitable relief against penalties and forfeitures, the equity of redemption, the independent property interest of the cestui que trust, the duties and liabilities of trustees, the constructive trust and the bona fide purchaser doctrine.

* Current publications of the Selden Society are distributed without charge to the members of the Society and past publications are available to them at a substantial discount.
