Table of Contents–Issue 2
CONTENTS

LEAD ARTICLES:
An Analysis of the Legal Problems Resulting From Wrongful Dishonors ....................... Tommy Lee Holland 507
Profile of a Social Security Disability Case ............................................. Fred Davis & James Reynolds 541

COMMENTS:
"Our Federalism"—The Limitation of Younger-Samuels and Their Progeny on Federal Intervention in State Court Proceedings ................................................. Brian J. Finucane 559
Punitive Damages in Missouri ................................................................. Mark T. Stoll 593

RECENT CASES:
Constitutional Law—A Comparison of Missouri and Federal Standards for State Aid to Non-Public Schools ..................................................... William G. Reeves 618
Constitutional Law—Conflicts—In Personam Jurisdiction in Missouri .................................................. David L. Steelman 625
Constitutional Law—School Desegregation—Interdistrict Relief under the New Equal Protection Standard ..................................................... Christopher F. Jones 635
Evidence—Attorney-Client Privilege for Communications Between Insurer and Insured in Missouri .................. Robert S. Hyatt 642
Habeas Corpus—Use of the Writ in Missouri State Courts to Challenge Prison Conditions .................... Dan H. Ball 650
Jury Instructions—Burden of Proof—Cases Requiring Proof by Clear, Cogent, and Convincing Evidence ................................................................ Mary Case Doesburg 662
Scope of Search Incident to Arrest: Missouri's Application of the Exception ........................................ Bobette Sanders 668
Truth-In-Lending Disclosure Requirements—Security Interest in After-Acquired Consumer Goods ... Craig S. Biesterfeld 675
UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

LAW SCHOOL FOUNDATION

When the University of Missouri [Columbia] Law School Foundation was established as a pro forma corporation on April 17, 1928, its stated purpose was as follows: "The corporation is formed for the purpose of promoting and furthering legal education in the State of Missouri. It proposes to accomplish its objects by establishing an endowment and foundation for promoting the interest and welfare of the School of Law of the University of Missouri [Columbia], and for aiding and extending the work and activities of said School of Law."

Law School Foundation support of the Dean and Faculty of Law has been of significant help in certain areas where public funds have been unavailable or inadequate. The following are some of the Foundation's programs.

David Ross Hardy Memorial Trust. After the death in 1976 of Mr. Hardy ('39) of the Kansas City bar, his law firm of Shook, Hardy & Bacon, other lawyers, members of his family, and friends made and are currently making memorial gifts to an endowed scholarship established in his name. The income is awarded annually to a student who has completed at least one year of law study. Selection is made on the basis of need, legal scholarship, good moral character and leadership.

University of Missouri Law School Foundation Scholarships. In addition to the Law School Foundation endowed scholarships and law firm scholarships, each year the Foundation provides funds for approximately 15 scholarships averaging $300 each. The maximum amount for an individual scholarship is $540, and awards are made to entering, as well as second- and third-year students. The Law School Foundation also provides substantial additional funds to assist disadvantaged students.

Law Firm Scholarships. A number of law firms and individual lawyers make annual contributions to the Law School Foundation for scholarship purposes, each contribution being sufficient to provide at least one individual scholarship.

Faculty Summer Fellowships. For some years the Foundation has authorized summer faculty fellowships. Several are awarded in the typical summer. The faculty member receiving a fellowship usually engages in legal research or production of law review articles, books, legislation, or other contributions to legal scholarship.

In subsequent issues of the Missouri Law Review other Law School Foundation programs will be described.

Mail your gift, large or small, to:

University of Missouri Law School Foundation
School of Law, Tate Hall
University of Missouri—Columbia
Columbia, Mo. 65201